

25/07/2025

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Daniel Craciun, who interned with us at Synergix Ltd from 10th February 2025 – 10th July 2025 as a Junior Software Developer Intern. During this period, he proved to be an exceptional member to our team, consistently exceeding expectations through his professionalism, initiative, and technical ability.

From the beginning, Daniel demonstrated an outstanding ability to work independently while maintaining strong communication and collaboration with the wider team. He approached every task with a high level of diligence and curiosity, and he consistently displayed a solution-oriented mindset, even when faced with unfamiliar challenges. Notably, he never hesitated to take on new and complex tasks, asked the right questions when needed, and was able to deliver results with minimal oversight. His capacity to quickly learn new skills, tools and frameworks significantly contributed to both the speed and quality of his work.

Despite being an intern, Daniel quickly earned the respect of the team through his insight, dependability, and thoughtful contributions. He demonstrated a strong sense of ownership and took initiative far beyond what was expected of him. One of his most impactful achievements was the identification and implementation of several improvements to our user onboarding process. His holistic approach meant he not only considered the technical efficiency of the system but also the user experience and long-term maintainability. As a result, his contributions led to a more streamlined, user-friendly onboarding flow that continues to enhance how new users engage with our platform.

Overall, Daniel was a valuable asset to our team, and I have every confidence that he will bring the same level of excellence, initiative, and integrity to any future role. I recommend him without reservation and would welcome the opportunity to work with him again.

Should you require further information, please feel free to contact me directly.

Sincerely,

Shaian Rawlins
Head of Operations
Synergix Ltd
Shaian.rawlins@synergixltd.com